

COX OPENS FIRE ON REPUBLICAN LEADERS; CHARGES ATTEMPT TO TRICK AMERICAN PEOPLE

Capture of six seats in the U. S. senate, now held by Democrats and a consequent increase by twelve of the Republican majority in that body is the task which the Republicans of the west and middle west have set for themselves. The Democrats who have been marked for political slaughter are Marcus A. Smith of Arizona, James D. Phelan of California, John P. Nugent of Idaho, Charles B. Henderson of Nevada, George B. Chamberlain of Oregon and Edwin S. Johnson of South Dakota.

'ATTEMPTING TO BUY THE CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT'

WHEELING, W. Va., August 14.—Governor Cox today opened fire upon his Republican opponents, charging their leadership with attempted trickery of the American people in opposing the League of Nations, and with conducting a campaign behind a "smoke screen" to secure partisan spoils.

That "a powerful combination of interests is now attempting to buy government control" also was asserted by the Democratic presidential candidate, charging that "millions and millions" were being raised in campaign contributions.

The governor closed his attack in an address here at the West Virginia Democratic convention. It was his first assault on the Republicans and was to be followed tonight by another address made to the general public.

Attacks Senatorial Oligarchy

Although advocacy of the League of Nations, which the governor declared was "the greatest movement of right-consciousness in the history of the world," was the main theme of the Democratic candidate's address, he also attacked again the Republican "senatorial oligarchy." The Democrats, he added, present a course of "constructive, progressive, economic service in peace" and promise definitely a saving of $2,000,000,000 annually in government expenses.

A grave responsibility rests with the Democratic party," said Governor Cox. "Through its policies and conduct it must render good faith in behalf of the nation, of the soldiers of the war, and to our allies who helped to achieve victory. It is not a partisan affair. The campaign this year is not a contest for the triumph of a political party. It is purely a matter of concluding a duty to civilization, and doing it as quickly as prudent consideration of our country's interests suggests."

Republicans Abandon Idealism

"Leadership in a great moral question has been given to democracy for the simple reason that the senatorial oligarchy, which for the time being has assumed control of the Republican party, has abandoned the idealism of other days."

"We shall not alone make appeal to the electorate by contrasting the rules of economic thought that have prevailed in the past, but we shall call attention to the delinquent attitude in which this country has been placed by Republican intrigue and to the very definite program of action we propose. It is unnecessary to recall the issues of the war. They were well marked in the public mind. We were willing to

ROAR OF ARTILLERY HEARD IN WARSAW

WARSAW, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press)—The Russian attack on Warsaw has worked well toward the goal of that city's defense and are attacking Poland, within a dozen miles of the Vistula northwest of the Polish capital according to Friday night's official Polish communique, available early today.

WARSAW, Aug. 13.—(By The Associated Press)—The roar of artillery on the battle front could be plainly heard in Warsaw today (Friday). The Russians have brought up just south of the Bug. Observers say, however, that the enemy has not yet in position guns heavy enough to reach this city with their fire.

On the northeastern front, along the Bialystok road, the Russians were 21 miles from Warsaw, this morning's newspapers reported.

WARSAW, Aug. 14.—A plebiscite to determine the future of Russian Poland is one of the peace terms drawn up by the Bolsheviks in the first proposal of an armistice by the Polish government. The right of unqualified propaganda in this territory during the year which would intervene before the plebiscite also would be demanded.

These and the other terms of peace which are believed to have been formulated for submission at the first meeting between the Soviet and Polish emissaries, were received here today, in official circles. While not regarded as final because of the events favorable to the Bolshevik cause since their formulation, the terms are accepted in Washington as illustrative of the intention of the invaders to impose peace conditions of a drastic nature.

Burton May Be Returned To Congress

Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland, Ohio, who served many years in congress, both in the lower and upper house, but who voluntarily left public life five years ago, probably will return to Washington after March 4 next as a congressman. Burton has been nominated for congress by the Republicans, and in his district such a nomination is regarded as equivalent to election.

Increase In Express Rates Is Granted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Applicants will soon be made to the interstate commerce commission by the American Railway Express company to increase its rates sufficiently to absorb the additional wage recently granted its employees. The demand, it was said, will be for an increase in rates in addition to that of 12 1/2 per cent authorized yesterday by the commission.

The commission's award yesterday which it is unofficially estimated will add $2,000,000 to the annual income of the company, did not take into consideration the railroad labor board's award of increased wages approximately $10,000,000 to express company employees.

The rate increase, authorized yesterday, was only about half the amount sought, the express company having requested authority to advance its rates 25 per cent.

Foreign Ships Carry Bulk Of Cargoes

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 14.—Foreign vessels brought nearly twice the value of imports into the United States during the fiscal year 1920, as were carried in American bottoms, according to a summary made public today by the department of commerce. Ten percent more exports were shipped in foreign ships than in American vessels, the summary showed.

Of imports totalling $1,700,957,168, foreign ships brought in $2,870,930,209 and American vessels $1,836,026,959. Exports in foreign bottoms amounted to $2,923,338,373, while in American vessels the total was $3,215,879,822.

Of the tonnage entering American ports during the year however 50.66 per cent was American and 49.34 percent foreign, while of the tonnage clearing from the United States 51.72 percent was American and 48.28 foreign.

No Vote In North Carolina Before Tuesday

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 14.—Leaders in the North Carolina legislature were of the opinion today that neither the senate nor the house would vote before Tuesday on ratification of the federal amendment.

It was predicted that action would be taken first in the senate, probably Tuesday, and that if the ratification resolution, introduced yesterday, were adopted there it would then be considered by the house where, it was expected, a bitter, close battle would occur.

W. Va. Democrats In Convention

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 14.—Democratic leaders from all parts of West Virginia were here today for the state convention this evening when a candidate for justice of the supreme court, two presidential electors at large and twelve district electors are to be chosen. The convention also will add a platform and select an address by Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate.

Governor Connally, former Senators Chilton and Watson and many Democratic candidates for state offices, arrived last night and a meeting of the state committee was held to consider tentative plans for the platform.

Among the questions discussed in the local lobbies was the proposed plan of delegates to name a leading Democratic woman to preside, for a time at least, at one of the convention sessions.

Harding To Revive Protective Tariff Issue In Campaign

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Mr. Harding is a firm believer in the protective tariff. With great earnestness he told the correspondents here that he thought a new tariff law was inevitable and necessary. Of course, no one pretends any more that there is much revenue to be gained out of a tariff law, for the most that ever was secured under the highest tariff in American history was about $100,000,000 which used to be half of America's entire revenue. The revenue of the United States is now about $1,000,000,000. The income tax has taken its place as the great revenue producer.

Protection for industry, Senator Harding, however, sees the tariff from quite another angle. He doesn't mention any commodity of revenue, but at the same time he thinks tariff protection will help in industry's struggle and keep payrolls intact.

The Republican candidate didn't go into detail. With the exception of wool, he didn't mention any commodity of industry that would be favorably affected by a tariff revision. He did not discuss those industries which need to be in need of a protective tariff but whose out of production due to efficiency methods now is lower than that of foreign producers, nor did he say he would see to it that the protective tariff would not be a means of keeping price levels high.

SUFFRAGE JOLTED BY TENNESSEE SPEAKER

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 14.—I do not believe the men of Tennessee will surrender honest convictions for political expediency or harmony. Neither house was in session today, both the senate and house having recessed until Monday. Suffrage advocates expected to face more determined opposition.

Secret Bared!

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 11.—Increased consumption of raisins in the United States since the advent of prohibition, is believed to account for the 1,100 percent increase in imports of this commodity from Spain during the first six months of 1920. Nearly 8,000,000 pounds were exported from Malaga to the United States up to June 30, according to the department of agriculture's bureau of markets—a quantity that exceeds the total raisin exports from that port for the seven year period 1913-1919, inclusive.

He said its affairs were hopelessly interwoven with those of the Hanover Trust Company. The capital of the association is $13,715 and it had deposits of about $500,000.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—The financial ship that has been piloted by Charles Ponzi was high and dry on the rocks today and federal and state officials made determined efforts to salvage.

FIRST BLOOD GOES TO ORGANIZATION FORCES

In the "kick-off" at the meeting of the Republican County Central Committee Saturday afternoon, the organization forces won first blood by electing a temporary chairman in H. Frank Bennett over Alex Woodrow by a vote of 27 to 26.

The insurgents elected the temporary secretary P. Kinney Hall, over Louis Schoettle by a vote of 20 to 24. The committee then voted to go into executive session and all in the Republican Club room were expected except the committee men and a newspaper man. The motion to go into executive session was advanced by Attorney P. W. Moulton of the insurgents, but when a vote was taken the motion carried by a vote of 23 to 24.

With little blood tightly drawn, leaders of the warring Republican factions, the "old guard" led by former Sheriff John F. Eckhart and the insurgents led by Attorney W. R. Sprague, a sublimely ready for what promised to be a most spirited contest to control the new County Central Committee chosen at Tuesday's primary.

Both sides were busy last night and this morning lining up their forces for the fight, which from all indications will be centered over the selection of a new chairman to succeed Charles W. Wilson, who was defeated for reelection by the organization, but when a vote was taken the motion carried by a vote of 23 to 24.

The insurgents held a caucus Friday night and it is said, Marvin C. Clark, who won over J. Earl Chandler in Tuesday's primary after a bitter fight was selected as their candidate for the county chairmanship and his name probably will be presented when nominations are called.

The organization leaders were also in conference Friday night but they have made no selection for the chairmanship so far as is known although it is intimated they may back Henry Becker for the place.

Both sides are claiming victory but the insurgents seem the most confident and declare that they have a majority of the 60 committeemen and that they have sufficient strength to completely oust the Eckhart crowd when he test comes while the organization crowd asserts they will have sufficient votes to put their choice across and nip the plans of the anti in the bud.

The meeting will be held at the quarters of the Republican club in the Masonic Temple and will be called to order at 12 o'clock old time by Chairman Charles Wilson who will turn his gavel over to his successor as soon as he has been elected.

OVER 15,000 ATTEND FAIR

Over fifteen thousand people paid admission to the Scioto County Fair on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, according to Treasurer Clyde Brant, who has been busy the last couple of days checking up all accounts and paying different bills and premiums.

The last day of the fair was Friday when about 1,500 people attended the fair. The fair officials expected larger crowds on Wednesday and Friday, but were very well pleased with the Thursday crowd. The fair officials consider this year's show a big success, and nothing will be left undone to have the 27th annual fair next year.

Although the attendance was larger than ever in the history of the Scioto County Agricultural Association, very little or no money will be made by the association, on account of the expenses incurred this year being larger than ever before. Several thousand dollars more in premiums was paid this year than before and more money was spent in securing attractions and paying for repairs and new buildings.

A meeting of the Fair Association will be held Monday, at which time business of this year's fair will be finished.

All persons who have not received their premiums, should communicate with the chairman of the department in which their exhibit was made or with the Association Secretary M. J. Caldwell, of Wakefield.

The big airplane which took a number of local people rides in the clouds during the fair, left the fair grounds Saturday morning for Dayton, enroute to Kokomo, Ind.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I am sixteen years old and this spring I completed the third year of high school. I want to use the fourth year at Portsmouth, but I have just taken one year of Latin and I have been told that you are required to have at least two years of Latin before you can enter there for the fourth year. Is this true? Can I take shorthand and typewriting and if I did would the course be enough to enable me to get a position as stenographer. If you do not know about this to whom could I write for information? How is my weight for my age and schooling? I am five feet five and one-half inches tall and weigh about one hundred and seven pounds. How much should I weigh?

MARY JANE.

The best thing for you to do is to send your credentials to Superintendent Frank Appel of the Portsmouth high school and he will write you a letter telling you just what to do. I hardly think you could learn enough shorthand in one year to take a position as it is not taught exclusively, but must be carried along with other studies. A girl of your age and height should weigh 115 pounds.

Dear Dolly—I do not like to criticize the promoters or officials of the Louisville fair, but I do think that better arrangements could be made in regard to the parking of automobiles. WANT-TO-KNOW.

Marriage licenses are required in all states except Alaska. Catholic couples to obtain their marriage licenses published three consecutive Sundays before the congregation to which they belong are not compelled to get a marriage license, but most of them do take a license because of this privilege. When a license is secured the minister who performs the ceremony fills out the marriage certificate and files it with the probate court, so it can be proved the same as if they had secured the license.

The church ought to be filled to hear these two men. Each will have a distinctive message.

An article in the last "Western" says that the reason for the decline in church attendance is due to the absence of children in the public confession. They are no longer trained to go to preaching services. Our own church has been honestly working for over a year on the problem of getting the whole family to church on Sunday morning. Let us keep this ideal in mind.

THE LIKE EVER OCCURRING

ANOTHER financial bubble has burst and thousands know in bitter experience the folly of trusting in a get-rich-quick scheme.

For a couple of weeks Boston has been agog and all the country watching the case of Charles Ponzi, who was reputed to be returning investors a profit of 50 per cent in 45 days. According to reports Ponzi continued to pay back millions daily to swelling crowds of clients, who had taken alarm and began a unanimous rush to his office, when the word got out that both the federal and state governments were investigating his operations. Day after day there was entrancing story of his golden mystery, related by Ponzi himself, but the end came and as it must always be, it was an utter crash. It turns out that Ponzi was a swindler on a gigantic scale, an ex-convict from Canada, who had deluded tens of thousands by his dazzling promise of sudden wealth. He is in jail and his liabilities are estimated to be about three millions more than his assets.

You know there are people who hold children ought not to be taught to believe in Santa Claus and fairies because it gives them a false perspective through life. When we read of events, in which a character and scheme of the Ponzi sort are the central figures, we half believe they are right. It seems that it must be some lingering faith in Aladdin and his wondrous lamp that make so many dupes to the brilliant, but impossible schemes and promises of fakes and frauds. What else would lead them to trust their money to an utter stranger, who claims he has discovered away or secret of escaping the ordinary and average laws of business and trade by which he can coin them money faster than it is turned out in the mints? Always the brains and the enterprise of the world are seeking through the domain of finance and profit. Into every nook and crevice they pride in the effort to increase gain. It is utterly impossible that one man should discover some great highway that has been overlooked entirely and that none other ever even caught so much as glimpses of. Yet, instances like the case of Ponzi show there are thousands, yes, millions, are readily convinced such a thing can be. It must be because faith in magic still abides.

THREE OUT OF SIXTEEN

COUNTING Portsmouth as Wayne, which now exists to all practical purposes solely as a memory, the proposition to take the school levy outside the Smith one per cent levy was submitted in sixteen of the 19 townships of the county, at Tuesday's primary, and carried in all, except three, the exceptions being Madison, Harrison and Vernon.

It's defeat in these is a matter of surprise as they are three of the best townships in the county and have a low tax rate besides. The result therein would seem to show that the little red school house isn't as popular in some quarters as it is cracked up to be, since Madison and Harrison are the boasted banner Republican townships of the county.

TWO OF A KIND

IT is rather interesting to note the various parallels in the primary election.

Take one, for instance, that Scioto county was particularly concerned in, the contest for secretary of state on the Republican side. Joe Tracy, of Portsmouth, was the choice of the party organization. It was taken for granted by everybody that he had a walk away. Yet, until yesterday afternoon, the returns showed him beaten, his own county plunking in such a majority for him later on as to put him ahead by a scant majority of 150, which, however was later increased. Certain it is anyway, he can be by the next returns, wiped out. Certain it is anyway, he can be assured of nomination until the final official count is had.

As parallel to this on the Democratic side was the race for senator. The party organization put its approbation on W. A. Julian, of Cincinnati, and nobody disputed he would have the nomination handed him on a silver platter, as it were. Oh, yes, it's so that Judge O'Neil, of Akron, disputed it, but the organization assured us he was a nobody, a young up-start who would be crushed and crumpled up so as to do him good which he needed. But here he is nose and nose with Julian under the wire, with Julian, of a verity, seems about the width of a cobweb ahead and the startled Democracy and its organization awaiting breathlessly to hear what the official judges will announce.

As a matter of fact, O'Neil has before shown himself a lad of quality. For though it is true, at least it is not disputed, that he is handicapped with a rich father, he had the enterprise to strike out on his own account. He is a talented lawyer and takes to public like a duck to water, having been elected municipal judge of Akron, fastest growing city in the state, and everybody saying then, as they said up to Tuesday, that he was a presumptuous youth, trying to butt in where he wasn't wanted.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

LINDSEY MEETS AN AMERICAN GIRL ON HER WAY TO WED A FOREIGNER IN LONDON

Could hardly wake myself up this morning. Finally did so, and discovered that mother had already down. Looked at my watch and saw that it was nearly ten o'clock, so I must have been desperately tired.

I had some breakfast brought to my cabin, and enjoyed it thoroughly, eating and watching the water foaming and swirling in blue beauty just outside.

I was too lazy to get up until long after my breakfast, and it was heavenly just to lie still and think, and be soothed by the gentle motion of the ship. I dozed off again, and first thing I knew mother was laughing at me, while I blinked up at her in amazement, and the time, little book, was four-thirty. How's that for pure laziness?

I slipped into my clothes and donned a new and becoming green sweater and, then to match, and then was ready for another nap up in my deck chair! That's how the sea affected me for the whole of today. But I did not fight this drowsiness—not me, for I fear I have vast arrears of sleep to make up for now, and I intend to do it.

I lost an awfully nice girl during the afternoon. She had her hair shingled and was evidently traveling alone. We both slept so much that we didn't look at each other and laughed. Then we fell into conversation.

She, too, is on her way to London, and lives not far from my own neighborhood in New York. Her name is Adeline Lyons, and she has left her parents behind her, and is on her way to meet and marry her fiancé, a young Italian visitor.

He is on his way up from Rome to meet the boat and her at Southampton, and they are to be married within three weeks' time.

This was all most thrilling to me and of course I told her about Jack, etc. She and her fiancé became engaged a year ago, and then he was suddenly called back to Italy, and found out that he must stay there for some time, so the separation became unbearable and at his earnest request Adeline decided to join him and be married as soon as possible.

Funny thing, too, about the whole thing is that Vincenzo, being an Italian and a Latin and all that, should have fallen in love with a girl of Adeline's type. She is tall and slender and very good looking, but very composed—not at all the sort of a girl who would lose her head while he does same every little while no doubt! It may be just the contrast that did it.

Miss Lyons told me that her fiancé had met her first at a suffrage meeting, at which she was the speaker of the evening. It was when he was over in America with the Italian mission that came over and her manner and speech made such an impression on him that he secured an introduction and fell in love with her at first sight, pretty nearly! Now, that is true romance for you. On land or sea you do find it, so it shows that Romance is not dead, after all. What though the U. S. of A. has been doing its best to kill it for so long.

Of course she showed me half a dozen pictures of her lover in his uniform and so on, and he is most attractive and masterful looking for a Latin. I do hope that she will be happy with him. This is her first crossing, and it will be her first glimpse of London, Paris and Rome, where she is to live after her marriage, so of course the conditions are ideal in every way.

We sat and gossiped until the first pale stars came out and winked at us, and then we really had to stop! You know how engaged girls are. But the dinner going was irresistible in the long run.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

BERTRAND RUSSELL

Bertrand Russell, England's most famous intellect, has returned from Russia with a report on sovietism so decidedly adverse as to leave the Bolshevik sympathizers in England fairly gasping for breath. He pronounces the red movement as too cruel and destructive to be of any value to the world outside Russia.

Among the interesting facts in his report on Russian conditions are these:

"All power is in the hands of the Community party, which numbers about 250,000 in a population of 10,000,000."

"Moscow and Petrograd just manage to live by having the whole civil and military power of the state devoted to their needs."

"There is absolute complete suppression of free speech and free press, and perfect control against the soviet is impossible."

BILLY WILKES

The carriage was not going very rapidly, and Billy, after he had caught up with it, merely trotted along back of the rear wheel, so that when the carriage passed the mayor's house, thus and the cook were not very far behind. They were bound to catch that goat and punish him for what he had done, although it is very likely that before they got through they would have sold him and kept the money. The way was still out in front, trotting and running, but the stupid policeman was gone, he had been sent down to the hotel to arrest the foreign boy and his goat, and he was too stupid to notice them, even with him and the cook paddling along behind. He had nothing in his mind but the hotel to which he had been sent. The mayor, however, recognized the green-dressed goat as soon as he saw him.

Other, putting on pants and blowing just out of reach of the goat. Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Frank were too intent on getting up the sheep street and out of the town to notice what was going on behind them, but now they came to the top of the hill and began to go down the grade, the goat on the other side. The driver whipped up his horse, the goat also increased his pace, and away they went. The cook, seeing that the goat was about to escape, made a huge jump, thinking that he could grab it by the tail or the hind legs, but as he did so his foot caught on a stone and over he went. Thus, being right behind him, tumbled over him, and the last ray of hope that he felt he must throw somebody into jail, so, as soon as he could get his breath, he grabbed Billy Zug by the collar with one hand and the cook with the other. "I arrest you in the name of the law for obstructing a high officer," he exclaimed, and the stupid policeman, turning up just then, he turned round and the cook over to him and sent them to jail.

All the hot, dusty afternoon, Billy followed Mr. Brown's carriage, now full and now down hill, without ever showing himself to them. When ever he thought of straying off into the pleasant, grassy valleys and sticking out into the world for himself again, he remembered that the Browns were going to America and that if he went with them he might see his mother again. He did not know, of course, that America was such a large place, so while now and then he felt he must throw somebody into jail, he also remembered that the Browns were going to America and that if he went with them he might see his mother again.

"There he goes," cried the mayor. "Brute beast of a goat! Halt, I say!" Billy, with a little whistle, he, too, followed with anger that it made him puff like a load, started out after the carriage, and there they ran, the three clumsy-looking lot men, one after the other, putting on pants and blowing just out of reach of the goat.

It couldn't be done. Somebody said that it couldn't be done. But he, with a chuckle, replied: "That 'may be it couldn't,' but he would be one."

Who wouldn't say so till he tried. So he lunched right in, with a trace of a grin.

On his face. If he worried, he hid it.

He started to sing as he tackled the thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that."

At least, no one ever has done it. But he took off his coat and he took off his hat.

And the first thing he knew he'd begun it.

With the lift of his chin and a bit of a grin.

Without any doubling or quibbling.

He started to sing as he tackled the thing.

That couldn't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done.

There are thousands to prophesy failure.

There are thousands to point out to you, one by one.

The dangers that wait to assail you. But just look at it with a bit of a grin. Just take off your coat and go to it. And start in to sing as you tackle the thing.

That "couldn't be done"—and you'll do it.

New-York - Day-By-Day

BY G. C. MENTHE

NEW YORK, August 14—(FBI)—Avenue's famous million dollar dog yard is to be sacrificed to the sky-scraping mania. Imagine depriving a poor little pup of a place to frolic just to put an office building where people in trade may clamor for money. Verily, the world is askew.

The million dollar dog yard is next door to the gloomy Mangion of Broken Shelters on the avenue at 35th street. The mansion and the dog yard were the property of the late John Gottlieb Wended, an eccentric millionaire, whose obituary splinter sisters now live in the house.

The house is one of mystery that every one notices passing up or down from the bridges, the shutters flap about in delapidation. People tell of seeing parchment like faces peering from the windows now and then. The sisters never appear on the streets.

Wended who drove about in a carriage 100 years old told an antiquated family horse, would never improve his property. His real estate holdings were valued at $50,000,000. His sisters followed the same course and all the property has fallen into disrepair.

On The Right Trick. Dr. Buckley, the Methodist divine, was asked one day to conduct an "experience meeting" at a colored church in the south.

A colored woman arose and bore witness to the preciousness of her religion as light-bringer and comfort-giver.

"That's good, sister!" commented Dr. Buckley. "But now about the practical side. Does your religion make you strive to prepare your husband a good dinner? Does it make you look after him in every way?"

Just then Dr. Buckley felt a yank at his coat-tail by the colored preacher, who whispered ardently: "Press down questions, doctor; press down questions. That's my wife!"—Exchange.

RUSSIA FIXES DRASTIC TERMS FOR POLAND

LAND GRABBING POLICY BEHIND SOVIET PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A plebiscite to determine the future of Russia Poland is one of the peace terms demanded by the Bolshevik government. The right of unrestricted propaganda in this territory during the year which would intervene before the plebiscite also would be demanded.

These and the other terms of peace which are believed to have been formulated for submission at the first meeting between the Soviet and Polish plenipotentiaries were received here today in official circles. While not regarded as final because of the events following the Bolshevik seizure since their formulation, the terms are regarded in Washington as illustrative of the intention of the invaders to impose peace conditions of a drastic nature.

Code to Germany
The other terms as received here include the right of the Soviet government to unrestricted transmission of radio messages across Poland between Russia and Germany; the turning over of all salt and coal mines in Poland for operation by the Soviet government and the right of unrestricted travel for all Soviet nationals across the Polish frontier without the Polish passport.

The provisions for a plebiscite in the portion of Poland formerly belonging to Russia together with the stipulation that the Bolsheviks be granted permission to disseminate propaganda without restriction in that territory one year before the vote, is viewed by officials here as likely to be especially objectionable to the Poles.

The granting of such demands would result in the loss to the new government of Russian Poland for all Polish national feeling in that region. It is considered, however, that the Bolshevik propaganda. Officials were inclined to be satisfied at the Minsk negotiations, now in progress, will be even more severe than those tentatively prepared for the Baranovitch conference, which was abruptly when the Polish plenipotentiaries decided they had no city to negotiate peace. The recent advances of the Soviet forces are held to make possible the even more drastic terms. The Polish situation continues to receive a large portion of attention of officials here.

WARSAW, Aug. 14.—(By The Associated Press)—The Russians attacking Warsaw have worked well toward the rear of that city's defense and are attacking Plesk, within a dozen miles of the Vistula northwest of the Polish capital according to Friday night's official Polish communiqué, available early today.

WARSAW, Aug. 13.—(By The Associated Press)—The Russian army in the battle front could be plainly heard in Warsaw today (Friday). The Russians have brought up artillery in the region of Radzymin, just south of the Bug. Observers here, however, that the enemy has not yet in position guns heavy enough to reach this city with their fire. On the northeastern front, along the Bialystok road, the Russians were 21 miles from Warsaw, this morning's newspapers reported.

WARSAW, August 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Poland's peace declaration, consisting of 16 members, with military aids, clerics, and signatories, out of whom is a woman, prepared late tonight to leave for the battle front to meet representatives of the Russian Soviet government. Up until a late hour there had been no response from Moscow to a wireless dispatch naming the newspaper correspondents who were to accompany the Polish delegation. Announcement was made at eight o'clock that correspondents would not be permitted to go to the front unless word allowing them to travel came from the Bolsheviks.

Four of the delegates will be military officers, six will be foreign officers, representatives, counselors and advisors, and six will be diet leaders. M. Bonkowski, under minister of foreign affairs, will head the delegation and among the members will be M. Wladyslaw under secretary of the foreign office, M. Dolski, a counselor; General Kulinski, Major Staniszewski. The names of the diet members of the delegation have not been announced.

Americans Represented
Two representatives of the American Relief organization, Herschel Walker, of Philadelphia, and Maurice Pace, have received permission from Moscow to accompany the Polish plenipotentiaries to Minsk, where they will confer with Bolshevik authorities regarding the granting of 200,000 children formerly cared for by the Americans, but now within the Bolshevik lines.

Members of the mission were tonight asked by the foreign officers to assemble at three o'clock Saturday morning, and it is probable they will start soon afterward toward Stetler. This side of Stetler, the delegation which will show white flags, will meet Soviet plenipotentiaries who will escort the Poles probably to Minsk.

Weather
OHIO—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; cooler in south portion tonight.
KENTUCKY—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday. Not quite so warm in extreme west portion tonight.

Foreign Ships Carry Bulk Of Cargoes

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 14.—Foreign vessels brought nearly twice the value of imports into the United States during the fiscal year 1920, as were carried in American bottoms, according to a summary made public today by the department of commerce. Ten percent more exports were shipped in foreign ships than in American vessels, the summary showed.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 14.—Democratic leaders from all parts of West Virginia were here today for the state convention this evening when a candidate for justice of the supreme court, two presidential electors, at large and twelve district electors are to be chosen. The convention also will add a platform and listen to an address by Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate.

Governor Cornwell, former Senator Chilton and Watson and many Democratic candidates for state offices, arrived last night and a meeting of the state committee was held to consider tentative plans for the platform.

Among the questions discussed in the hotel lobbies was the reported plan of leaders to name a leading Democratic woman to preside, for a time at least, at one of the convention sessions.

Michigan Hopes To Have Real Eleven

ANN ARBOR, MICH., August 14.—A squad of 54 men is expected to furnish the material from which Fielding H. Yost, Michigan's veteran football coach, will construct his 1921 football machine. In addition to that number of players, however, have been out of the greatest tackle ever produced in Michigan.

Among the letter men expected back, check the outlook for a powerful team. At Ann Arbor for the initial training is felt to be much brighter this year than in the past. Captain Angus Gietz, tackle, whom it was last fall. Eight veterans of the 1920 team are expected to return. Frank Stokere, guard, and Harold Rye, end, Finis E. Wolman, of Lovellville, Mo., also a letter man, probably will be among those on the squad this year. Among them are Archie Hahn, former tackle leader, who will have charge of the training squad; and Joe Maddock, regarded as one of the greatest tackle ever produced in Michigan.

While optimism is being held in Ann Arbor for the initial training, it is felt to be much brighter this year than in the past. Captain Angus Gietz, tackle, whom it was last fall. Eight veterans of the 1920 team are expected to return. Frank Stokere, guard, and Harold Rye, end, Finis E.
